Preface

Journal of Studies in Language, Culture, and Society (JSLCS) Volume 7, Issue 1, 30 June 2024

We are delighted to present this latest issue of the Journal of Studies in Language, Culture, and Society (JSLCS), continuing our commitment to fostering cutting-edge research at the intersection of these dynamic fields. As an open-access, peer-reviewed platform, we proudly showcase a diverse range of scholarship that reflects the breadth and depth of inquiry within language, culture, and society.

In this issue, we offer a rich tapestry of research that spans continents and disciplines. Readers will find studies examining the integration of critical thinking skills into Arabic instruction, the perceptions of inclusive education in Europe, and innovative approaches to second language acquisition. Our contributors also explore the subtleties and complexities of academic writing for non-native English speakers, revealing cross-linguistic patterns in modal usage, and examining the phonological hurdles faced by learners of new languages.

Furthermore, this issue expands the boundaries of our understanding of language, culture, and society by investigating the potential of Islamic endowment (Waqf) for national integration, the impact of digital technologies on cultural heritage, and the adaptation of traditional narratives into immersive mixed reality experiences. We also analyze the complex relationship between media and historical documentation, scrutinize biases in media reporting, and explore the power of literature as a tool for social justice and historical memory.

Through this collection of thought-provoking articles, we invite readers to engage with the latest research findings, theoretical frameworks, and methodological approaches in our field. We express our sincere gratitude to the authors for their valuable contributions and to the peer reviewers for their rigorous evaluation. We also extend our appreciation to our readership for their ongoing support and engagement.

We are confident that this issue will spark new conversations and inspire further inquiry into the complex interplay of language, culture, and society. We encourage readers to explore these articles and to join us in the ongoing pursuit of knowledge in these fascinating and ever-evolving fields.

Sincerely,

Nadia Idri, Editor-in-Chief Journal of Studies in Language, Culture and Society (JSLCS).
